Hello Parents,

It was so nice getting back in the classroom this week! Mrs. Neiburg and I really missed the kids and were so excited to hear how their holidays were.

This week we introduced and reviewed the letter L. The children are becoming more comfortable identifying their names each morning for attendance and seemed to be excited for the small change to the routine.

As we begin practicing writing names, we made some name snowmen to make the practice seem more like fun. We also made some penguins out of their handprints. They were so adorable, we made a second set to hang in the classroom.

As always, the children enjoyed their time in music and gym class. Mrs. Moore and Mr. Eric always incorporate lots of movement which everyone seems to love. Mr. Eric will be back in class this semester so he won't be with us for music anymore. We will all miss him and are so thankful for the time he spent with the children.

In celebration of Martin Luther King, Jr. Day tomorrow, all the Concordia students will be painting rocks with messages of kindness on the back. I will talk with the children about the importance of kindness towards others as we complete this activity. When they are dry and ready to go home I will ask the children to either keep them as a reminder to always treat others with kindness, or to pass them on to someone whom they would like to pass the message to.

This Wednesday is the Concordia No Cook Night at Johnny's Hot Dogs. This is a delicious and easy way to raise money for our wonderful school. The flyer went home this week and I have also attached it to this email as well.

Please reach out with any questions you may have.
